Do you have the Ultra Tile 'official stockist' stamp?

Ultra Tile, the renowned tile adhesives and grouts brand, wish to emphasise the support they can offer to all customers purchasing a selection of paste, powder and grout products.

Becoming an 'official stockist' is a lot easier than you think. All a customer has to do is purchase a selection of paste, powder and grout products from the Ultra Tile range on a regular basis. As a customer you can then be added to their official stockist list.

Ultra Tile has always offered their customers endless support and innumerable benefits – the most valuable now being the exclusive supply of sales lead enquiries that are generated from their extensive advertising and PR promotion.

All stockists will also then benefit from being able to offer a total solution from one guaranteed, compatible range of products. This is now more evident than ever before, in the current economic climate as fixers want to purchase for their tiling projects without unnecessary complications.
